

EXPORT QUALITY BAMBOO FOR SALE

BAMBOO TREATMENT

Every step in the production of our bamboo poles is carefully regulated, including its harvesting, curing, and grading. These highly specialized processes, which are supervised by highly trained professionals are instilled into the bamboo production ethic - to produce the best quality bamboo material possible. To increase the durability of bamboo and to protect it from insects and fungal attacks, it is necessary to carry out reliable preservation of every bamboo pole. We treat all of our bamboo material with naturally occurring salts of boron (Sodium Borate) which is a safe and environmentally friendly preservation chemical. To “load” the bamboo culm with sufficient levels of these salts for wood preservation we “horizontally immerse” the bamboo culms in a 5% solution for 5 days which is a fast and reliable method to guarantee our projects and customers receive the best quality preserved bamboo available on the market.
